

AWL – update from Morrisons 27th July 2017:

I have some bad news I'm afraid.

Without prior warning to us Essex have granted a road closure to the gas board (all of the High Street and Chickney Road) and have revoked all our permits for Henham.

This means that not only do our works seriously drag on now (we won't be able to start again until the 26th August at the earliest) but also you have another closure and diversion in the village.

I'm very sorry about this but there is nothing I or Affinity can do at this stage.

Kind regards,

James Alexander

Message from HPC dated 28th July 2017:

Henham Parish Council recognises the frustration of residents regarding the perpetual service works we have experienced since December 2016.

Henham Parish Council has no control over this work. The closure notice relates to Gas works. The closure notice and any advice will always be posted on Henham.org and Facebook.

We have no further detail at this time but will keep residents informed of any updates.
